Executive Director's Note . . .

As the warmth of summer permeates the air and the days grow longer, June emerges as a month full of joy and celebration. From honoring fathers to celebrating graduates and newlyweds, commemorating World Environment day, and more.

June brings a time of contemplation with World Environment Day. The United Nations established June 5 as a day of global observation. The United Nations wants us to think of the factors affecting the environment, encouraging the countries around the world to take collective steps toward sustainability and conservation.

Another important day in June is the Summer Solstice. This is the day we have the most daylight hours thus the term "the longest day of the year". On this day we officially enter the summer season. It is a powerful reminder to focus on the positive and bring light into our lives.

Father's day, a uniquely American holiday, is celebrated on the third Sunday of June. It is a day to express gratitude for our fathers for their love, guidance and sacrifices. Whether it's a heartfelt card, a thoughtful gift, or simply spending quality time together, Father's day serves as a reminder to appreciate the influential role fathers play in shaping our lives.

Here on the Sierra View Homes Retirement campus we are once again planning to take interested folks to the Kingsburg Summer Band Concerts. The first one is June 13. These concerts take place in Kingsburg and the evening is filled with vendors selling food (my favorite is the Kettle Corn) and wonderful big band music. Sierra View Homes provides the transportation and brings chairs and water to help make it a pleasant evening in the park.

June is a month of celebration, and promise of new beginnings. Graduations and weddings gives promise of wonderful adventures. Remembering the environment and our fathers help us appreciate where we live and how we live. Throughout the month may your days grow lighter as you enjoy the daylight hours and the warmth and joy that comes with summer activities.

Happy Father's Day

MOSQUITOS ARE BACK IN SEASON

We recently had Mosquito Abatement on campus to check areas of potential mosquito larvae. He didn't find any currently on campus, but he wanted us to be aware of areas of concern. Around the outside of your apartment, be sure there are no fountains, cans, plant bases, etc. that have standing water. If possible turn any watering cans or object that could collect sprinkler or rain water upside-down. Inside your living quarters, make sure there is nothing that has standing water in it (potted plants, flowers, or anything that could be holding water) around your apartment.

Truth and Power

In our weekly Bible Study we have recently started a journey through the book of Amos. The prophet Amos is one of the earliest in a long line of prophets that was sent to Israel and Judah. It is interesting to discover that Amos prophesied during a time of relative peace and prosperity. Why would God send a prophet when everything seemed to be going right?

When money and prosperity abound, it is rarely for everyone. Those positioned to receive it often fall to the temptation of hoarding it and using the power they gain from it to control and take advantage of the most vulnerable. It is a cycle that repeats itself. It turns out we have never been good at being responsible with power. God did not only send prophets when disaster had already struck, he sent prophets when the problem could still be fixed, if the people with power would only turn back to the ways God had instructed them in.

Jesus quoted the prophets often in his ministry. He refused to identify with the political labels and factions of his day, but he did care about power and the effect it had on those who suffered the most from it. Chris Rice writes: "Jesus' life shows us that power matters, that power can cause suffering, and that power can be redeemed." The prophets suffered much for speaking truth to power. Jesus followed in this path as well, a road that would lead to a Roman cross.

We must have the courage and determination of the prophets. And we must also cling to our faith in the resurrected Christ, which not only reminds us to stand up to power, but recognizes that power, like all things, is capable of being redeemed.
